

Women Against the Bomb

Author/Director: Sonia Gonzalez

Producer: Tangerine Productions

Country: France

Length: 58'

The inspirational story of the first all-female peace camp of Greenham Common, told from the inside by the women who were there. The protest camp began in England in 1981 to block the installation of nuclear weapons on European soil, marking the dawn of a global ecofeminist movement.

Awards: PRIX TERRE(S) D'HISTOIRE @ FIGRA (France) / Prix Spécial Histoire @ Festival de Luchon (France)

Festivals:
FIPADOC, Biarritz (France), 2022 / FIGRA, Douai (France) / Résistances, Festival du film et débats, Foix (France) / Femmes en résistance, Arcueil (France) / Au cinéma pour les droits humains - Amnesty International (France) / WOW Festival ((United Kingdom)

Coproduction TV: Arte France

TV participation: RTBF, RTS

Original version: English

Versions available:
Originale version
English version
French version

Credits:
Director: Soundia Gonzalez, photography: Amy Newstead, Sound: Lucy Pickering, editing: William Roy, music: Verity Susman & Matthew Simms

https://www.andanafilms.com/catalogueFiche.php?idFiche=1308&lang=en