

The Man Who Was Looking For His Son

Author/Director: Stéphane Correa, Delphine

Deloget

Producer: Quark productions

Country: France

Length: 76' & 45'

Wu's one year old son was kidnapped in the middle of the night and was most probably sold to another family. Ten years later, Wu still hopes to find him. On his bicycle, he travels across China, defying the indifference and inaction of Chinese society and authorities.

After 10 years of research, the man is beginning to lose it...

Awards: Main Jury Prize, International Competition for the Best Direction @ One World, Czech Republic / Grand Prix "L'objectif d'or" Millenium Bruxelles / Filmadaran Special Prize @ Ujan International Documentary Film Festival (Erevan Arménia) / First Silver Nanook @ IDFF Flahertiana, Russia /

Festivals:

One World, (Czech Republic), 2021 /
Millenium International Documentary Film Festival, Compétition International (Belgium), 2021 /
SIFF (Shanghai, China), 2021/
FIPADOC, Compétition International (Biarritz, France), 2021 /
Ujan International Documentary Film Festival (Erevan Arménia) /
États généraux du film documentaire (Lussas, France) /
IDFF Flahertian, Russia /
Verzió Film Festival (Hongrie) /

Coproduction: Aligal Production

TV participation: France Télévisions

Original version: Mandarin

Versions available:

Originale version
English version
French version

Credits:

Director: Stéphane Correa, Delphine Deloget. photography: Stéphane Correa. editing: Delphine Deloget.

<https://www.andanafilms.com/catalogueFiche.php?idFiche=1280&lang=en>