

All White in Barking

Author/Director: Marc Isaacs

Producer: Bungalow Town productions Ltd

Country: UK

Length: 72'

Filmmaker, Marc Isaacs, examines with charm and humour modern attitudes towards race in Barking, a white working class town to the East of London. Through the lives of five key characters from different ethnic backgrounds, Isaacs, a prominent but unseen presence, questions prejudices, and pries at preconceptions with remarkable results. The film at times plays like a Mike Leigh comedy, particularly when the filmmaker urges a white resident to meet up with her Nigerian neighbours.

Festivals:
IDFA 2007
Sheffield DocFest 2007
One World Human Rights Fest
Docpoint Helsinki
Sydney Film Festival
Belfast FF
ZagrebDox
East End Film Festival
Watch Docs
Tromsø Film Festival

Coproduction TV: BBC "Storyville"

Original version: English

Versions available:
English version

Credits:
Director, photography : Marc Isaacs,
editing : David Charap, music : Michel Duvoisin

<https://www.andanafilms.com/catalogueFiche.php?idFiche=1108&lang=en>