

The Filmmaker's House

Author/Director: Marc Isaacs

Producer: Marc Isaacs

Country: United Kingdom

Length: 75'

When the Filmmaker is told his next film must be about crime, sex or celebrity to get funded, he takes matters into his own hands and begins shooting in his home with a cast of characters connected to his own life.

Two English builders replace the garden fence between the house and a Pakistani neighbour. A homeless Slovakian man charms the Filmmaker's Colombian cleaner to let him in the house.

What follows tests everyone's ideas of boundaries and hospitality.
